HELPING ISRAELI HAND FOR AN ARAB

The tragic consequences for the Arab refugees still haunt the middle east, although the fighting has stopped. Here is one elderly Arab who has lost his home and was separated from his family. He is being helped by Israeli soldiers to cross the battered Allenby bridge over the Jordan River, at Jericho. Some 150,000 Arabs are said to be refugees in Western Jordan, which was seized by Israel's lightning war. A state of famine is said to exist in the area. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Jets Thrust Deep Inside North Vietnam

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. fighter bombers thrust deep into North Vietnam Sunday to smash a surface-to-air missile site and infiltration routes, rail lines and bridges.

Pilots reported they set fire to one missile site 65 miles northwest of Hanoi. Other air force and navy planes hammered North Vietnamese rail yards, rail yards, bridges and other supply facilities.

Air force F-105 Thunderchief pilots reported damaging 20 railway cars and ripping up tracks 34 miles northeast of Hanoi. Navy planes attacked storage areas, truck convoys and rail installations in North Vietnam's southern sector. Pilots said they damaged six boxcars and set fire to eight trucks.

Eight engine B-52 bombers marked their second anniversary of Vietnam action with three raids on infiltration routes and troop assembly areas in South Vietnam's northernmost Quang Tri province. The U.S. command in Saigon revised the casualty figures for a major clash Saturday that followed Viet Cong ambush of units of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division. Headquarters said 222 Viet Cong were killed, 26 more than previously announced. It also said 33 U.S. infantrymen were killed, up from 28, but that 107 were wounded, down from the 151 earlier reported.

Saturday also included major air action. U.S. pilots flew the largest number of attacks on North Vietnam in more than seven months—a near-record 166 missions by U.S. Navy, Air Force and marine jets. The record of 175 missions over the North in one day was set Oct. 14, 1966.

The raiders hit rail supply lines north of Hanoi, road and rail routes south of the North Vietnamese capital, and also the Mu Gia Pass, a chief infiltration route from North Vietnam into Laos and from there into South Vietnam.

H-Bomb Tested Month Early As Revolution Gift For Mao

TOKYO (AP)—China's armed forces newspaper says China's first hydrogen bomb was exploded one month early as a gift to Chairman Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution.

"Some of the officials concerned were gripped by anxiety and unable to tackle difficulties involved in the test," it said, warning against "undue haste." The Liberation Army Daily says, "Thus they worked day and night and finally succeeded in drawing up the blueprint a month earlier than scheduled. They put the blueprint into shape fragmentarily without waiting for the completion of the whole parts."

The announcement of the Chinese blast Saturday drew no comment from the Soviet Union and was given only one paragraph in Moscow Sunday papers. U.S. Defence department officials in Washington said the test has not changed the department's belief that China will not be able to launch a nuclear attack on the United States for about eight years.

The blast was interpreted by some Japanese commentators as an implied threat to Japan, which has no diplomatic relations with China.

LONDON (AP)—The British government today officially condemned China's explosion of its first hydrogen bomb. A statement issued by the foreign office said: "As we have made clear on numerous occasions, the test ban treaty provides conclusive proof of the desire of the overwhelming majority of people that such tests should not be carried out."

Detroit Police Return To Work

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's 4,700-man police force, faced with a court order banning work stoppages began returning to normal work shifts today. But the end of a feud with the city administration over a pay raise was not in sight.

The fight for an average annual pay increase of $1,665, led by the Detroit Police Association, goes before a state labor mediation board today. However, Winston Livingston, police association lawyer, said: "I don't feel it's over. I feel it has just begun."

By Sunday, 100 officers had been suspended for various forms of insubordination. Officers seek to increase their present top pay scale of $8,375 annually to $10,000.

Six Survive Crashes Of 3 Planes In B.C.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Six persons escaped injury in three airplane crashes in British Columbia during the weekend.

At Pitt Meadows a $3,000 homemade monoplane did a cartwheel in a field, snapping off the wings.

The monoplane, owned by James Pummell, was being flown by Dave Hutcheon of Coquitlam on a test flight.

Mr. Pummell planned to make a centennial flight to Expo.

On the Dollarton Highway in North Vancouver, four officer training cadets from Esquimalt walked away from their crashed single engine Cessna aircraft.

Checked but later released from Lions Gate Hospital in North Vancouver were Edward Bakstad, 21, Earl Coulas, 20, Robert Dunlop, 21, and Lowell Butters, 21.

Mr. Bakstad, who was piloting the craft, said the plane lost power while he was circling Vancouver to show it to the other passengers.

RCMP from Osoyoos in the south Okanagan reported that the pilot of a light plane escaped injury when he downed his craft in a field near Bridesville.

Five Killed By Accidents Across B.C.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

At least five persons died accidentally in British Columbia during the weekend, two in traffic and three by drowning.

Gunn Berit Soros, a four-year-old Squamish girl, drowned Sunday while playing at Alice Lake, 39 miles north of Vancouver. Her body was found near shore after an hour-long search on the beach.

A California man, David Fred Arrellanes, 24, of Norwalk died in a two-car collision on the Trans-Canada Highway four miles west of Victoria Saturday. His car slammed into a rock wall after being sideswiped by another vehicle.

Michael White, 21, of Revelstoke died Sunday after his car left Highway 23 seven miles south of Revelstoke.

An Oliver resident, Richard Lloyd, 65, drowned Saturday in a boating mishap at Okanagan Falls south of Penticton.

Police said Mr. Lloyd was swept away when his canoe overturned near the Okanagan Falls dam.

Dalziel Raymond Cameron, 36, of Duncan drowned Sunday when a power boat capsized in a lake near Vancouver Island.

ACROSS CANADA

A total of 61 persons died accidentally in Canada during the weekend, a survey by The Canadian Press shows.

The survey, from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday, local times, showed that the majority of deaths occurred in the country's two most populous provinces—Ontario and Quebec.

There were 19 deaths in Ontario—12 in traffic accidents, six by drowning and Lewis Pritchard, 17, was run over by another boat when he flipped out of his hydroplane during the international power-boat races at Dunnville.

In Quebec, 16 persons died accidentally—12 in traffic, three in the water and one in a helicopter crash.

The survey shows traffic accidents claimed 41 lives, drowning 17 and other types of accidents three.

Major Policy Speech Heard By UN Meet

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin

blamed the United States today for the war and crisis in the Middle East and raked U.S. policy in a major speech before the United Nations General Assembly.

The session brought an indirect confrontation of the Soviet leader and U.S. President Johnson. Shortly before Kosygin spoke, Johnson appealed to all countries to shun rigid stands in the search for Middle East stability.

Looking solemn, Kosygin walked slowly to the rostrum of the assembly to start a critical phase of a special emergency session. He began by excoriating American policy with regard to Vietnam, Cuba, the Congo and other trouble areas. He said the situation in the Middle East could lead to thermonuclear war.

"No nation wants war," Kosygin said. "Nobody doubts that if a new world war started, it would inevitably be a nuclear one."

"It should be taken into account that the continuing war in this area (Vietnam) is fraught with the terrible danger of escalating into a major military clash between the powers. . . . This is precisely what the present foreign policy of the United States of America is fraught with."

Kosygin praised the Security

Council for achieving a ceasefire in the Middle East, but said it did not discharge its whole responsibility, since Israeli troops still occupy Arab territory.

"As long as Israeli troops continue to occupy territories seized by them and urgent measures are not taken to eliminate the consequences of aggression, a military conflict can flare up at any moment," Kosygin said. "That is why the Soviet Union took the initiative to convene an urgent meeting of the members of the United Nations General Assembly."

An hour earlier, Johnson had told a foreign policy conference of educationists that "certainly troops must be withdrawn" from conquered territory in the Middle East. The president urged a settlement by negotiations between the Arabs and Israelis themselves.

Johnson laid down what he called "five great principles of peace" for the Middle East. These involved the rights of all countries in the area to exist, solution of the problem of Arab refugees from Israeli territory, the maintenance of international shipping rights in the area's vital waterways, an end to the Middle East arms race and reaffirmation of the territorial integrity and political independence of all nations of the Middle East.

Withdrawal Again Demanded

Mr. Kosygin presented a resolution in the General Assembly demanding withdrawal of Israeli forces from Arab countries and restitution of damage they had inflicted.

The resolution repeated past Soviet demands for the immediate and unconditional withdrawal of Israeli forces from Arab lands they captured in the six-day Middle East war.

But the resolution, which may not come to a vote for several days, added the demand for restitution.

Israel replied promptly and directly after a minute of applause for Kosygin died away. Taking the rostrum, the Israeli Foreign Minister, Abba Eban, said all Israel's troubles were aggravated by the unbalanced policy of the Soviet Union.

"The Soviet Union has for 15 years been unfaithful" to the responsibilities it has as a great power, he said.

"The burden lies heavily upon her. It has contributed much to the tension of Middle East life."

Eban criticized the action of UN Secretary-General U Thant in withdrawing UN peacekeeping forces from the Sinai Peninsula. He said the force, including more than 700 Canadians, had been there since the Suez war of 1956.

"What is the use of a fire brigade which vanishes as soon as the first flames begin?" Eban said.

He said the withdrawal of the UN troops had been "disastrously swift" and created a sudden shift in the international power balance.

Israel's attitude toward UN peacekeeping functions, he said, was "traumatically affected" by the UN withdrawal.

"Never again will we let Israel's security rest on such a fragile foundation," Eban said.

N.W.T. 'Train' Starts Trip

HAY RIVER, N.W.T. (CP)—The Northwest Territories' counterpart to the centennial train and caravans pushed into an ice-filled Great Slave Lake early Sunday from this centre 700 miles north of Edmonton.

A flotilla of two steel-hulled barges and a department of public works survey craft will sail around the ice jams in Great Slave Lake and down the Mackenzie River to Inuvik on the Arctic Coast, 1,800 miles away, carrying a giant ready-made birthday party.

Police Use Tear Gas, Clubs To Quell S. Korean Protests

used tear gas and clubs to break up a political rally today protesting alleged rigging in the South Korean National Assembly election June 8.

However, the police could not silence the speakers from the 166 missions by U.S. Navy, Air Force and marine jets. The record of 175 missions over the North in one day was set Oct. 14, 1966.

The raiders hit rail supply lines north of Hanoi, road and rail routes south of the North Vietnamese capital, and also the Mu Gia Pass, a chief infiltration route from North Vietnam into Laos and from there into South Vietnam.

the alleged rigging and irregularities in the voting.

Dr. Yu Chino, head of the opposition party, lead another group of demonstrators after the rally and marched about 500 yards before police dispersed them. About 20 persons were arrested.

Police said at least 22 policemen were injured today during the clashes.

The opposition party, which had only 45 members elected to the 175-man assembly, has announced it will boycott the new legislature and demanded a new general election.

Ottawa Employs 'Blackmail' In Dealing With Provinces

MONTREAL (CP)—Senator

M. Wallace McCutcheon accused the federal government today of using blackmail tactics on the provinces and charged Health Minister MacEachen with insulting doctors and trying to sell medical care insurance through hair-splitting arguments.

Speaking to the Canadian Medical Association's conference on medical care insurance and manpower, Senator McCutcheon said Canada should concentrate on providing government help to those who require it, leaving the majority to buy their own medical care protection.

Senator McCutcheon, a candidate for the Progressive Conservative leadership and a former trade minister in the Diefenbaker government, said Ottawa has a record of holding out the carrot of payments to the provinces and wielding a stick represented by conditions attached to those payments.

"This was what was being done with medical care insurance, scheduled to start July 1, 1968, and already the federal government was showing signs of planning to withdraw its direct contributions to provincial plans five years hence."

"I am not one of those who believe that all wisdom resides in Ottawa, nor am I one who agrees with the blackmail tactics which Ottawa has been applying in recent years," he said.

He said that Mr. MacEachen in telling doctors in recent public speeches that their incomes may increase by 20 per cent under medical care insurance was guilty of "an insult to the profession."

CHURCH CRITICIZED

Bishop James Pike, above, who last year quit his post as Episcopal bishop of San Francisco, said in Montreal Sunday his stand on racial issues led to charges of heresy from leaders of his own church. The author of several books on legal and religious issues said the church must begin concerning itself with real problems instead of endlessly discussing the Immaculate Conception and the "gynecology of the Virgin Mary."

Woman With Gun Goes Berserk In Bus

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Four persons were wounded today on a transcontinental bus headed for Seattle when a woman drew a pistol and began firing wildly. She fired six shots. The driver of the bus was shot in one shoulder and he lost control of the vehicle which then hit four cars. The woman was arrested.

Ex-Convict 'Got Even With' By Bomb

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An ex-convict living as a businessman in a posh northwest Los Angeles area was killed by a bomb planted in his car, police said. Gerald Covelli, 44, was decapitated by the blast in the driveway of his home. A passenger, Stephen Keno, 25, was blown from the car when the bomb went off seconds after Covelli started the car. Keno was injured seriously. "Someone in the East wanted to get even with him," Keno was quoted as saying.

KELOWNA MEN ON COLLEGE COUNCIL

Two Kelowna men are among five appointees to the Okanagan Regional College Council named by the Department of Education. H. G. Buchanan (right), president of the Okanagan Trades and Labor Council, and Horace B. Simpson (left), consultant to vice-president (Interior Operations) Building Materials 18. M. Simpson, are the Kelowna appointees. The three other men appointed are G. D.

Harle of Salmon Arm, Dr. J. M. Mackay of Revelstoke and Dr. J. M. Turner of Vernon. The new members will serve one-year terms. L. R. Peterson, B.C. minister of education, has indicated other appointments may be made at a later date. The new council members were appointed in line with recent amendments to the Public Schools Act during the last session of the Legislative Assembly.

Nancy Only Cried Once

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—An Alaskan educationist and his courageous little daughter performed like survival experts for four days after their plane went down in the Yukon wilderness.

Robert L. Thomas, 43, and his nine-year-old daughter Nancy fought exhaustion and mosquitoes in a well-executed hike to ward safety before rescue came Saturday evening. They were in remarkably good condition, despite minor facial injuries received in the forced landing of their light plane Wednesday.

The plane had flared out after running out of gas and putting down in swampy country near where British Columbia, the Yukon Territory and Alaska join.

They were spotted from the air Saturday by a Canadian pilot who followed an arrow fashioned on the ground beside the downed plane. A car was waiting when they finally reached a road. They were driven to Atlin, B.C., and then taken by amphibian to Juneau, where Thomas is director of administrative services for the Alaska Department of Education.

Thomas said Sunday, "Muskeg swamps, lakes, downed timber, beaver dams . . . you name it, we ran into it."

"The first night it rained and that was the only time Nancy cried. She was homesick," he said.

They were on the last leg of a flight from Oregon in a newly-purchased Cessna when forced to turn back from Juneau Wednesday because of bad weather. Thomas said the gas gauge indicated enough fuel for a 50-minute flight, but the engine cut midway between Atlin and Teslin, Y.T.

Wilson Tells de Gaulle U.K. Entry Into ECM 'Vital'

By GILBERT SEDDON
PARIS (Reuters) — Prime Minister Wilson and President de Gaulle met today for day-long talks on Britain's prospects of joining the Common Market, the Middle East crisis, Vietnam and other world issues.

Wilson attempted to convince the French leader that British entry into the market is essential for the future of Britain, France and Europe.

Informed British sources said Wilson will try to remove some of the major apprehensions of the French leader about Britain not being a "good European" and therefore not yet ready for membership in the six-nation European Economic Community.

Their talks at Versailles may determine the immediate course of Britain's new moves to join the community.

They come before a key meeting of the foreign ministers of the Six at Brussels June 28 which will consider Britain's recent formal application for entry negotiations.

FRANCE FAVORS DELAY
Britain is pressing for the start of these negotiations early next month. But the French government wants these delayed because it argues that the far-reaching economic and political consequences of enlarging the community should be first thrashed out among the current members.

Wilson and de Gaulle also are to discuss the Middle East crisis and the implications of the current emergency session of the United Nations General Assembly convened to discuss the aftermath of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

The two leaders also are to review the prospects of holding a Big Four summit—the United States, Britain, France and Russia—but the sources thought the chances of such a summit on the Middle East taking place in the United States in the next few days are slim.

Uncertainty About Oil flow Upset Canadian Markets

By DOUGLAS ADAMSON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Uncertainty about future relations between Arab oil-producing countries and the West was reflected in the rising prices of western oil stocks on Canadian stock exchange last week.

The value of oil stocks had increased steadily since war broke out in the Middle East and the embargo on Britain and the United States by Arab oil producers went into effect. The United States government has declared an oil emergency as a result.

Analysts feel that, although the U.S. is the world's largest oil producer, importing only 2.6 per cent of its oil from the Middle East in 1966, its capacity to meet demands from domestic industry is decreasing despite significant new discoveries in the Gulf of Mexico and off the coasts of California and Alaska.

The analysts point out that if the U.S. is to avoid "economic blackmail" by the Arab states in the future it must look to politically stable countries such as Canada as sources for oil and gas. The analysts attribute the recent activity in the Canadian oil industry to investors looking for profits over the long term.

U.S. OIL STALLING

Some analysts say the Middle East crisis may break down the opposition by independent American oil interests trying to stall or prevent construction of pipelines to bring Canadian gas and oil into the U.S.

Trans-Canada Pipe Lines is currently awaiting a decision on this from the U.S. Federal Power Commission and Inter-provincial has plans to take a line through Chicago.

Scurry-Rainbow rose 5% to 30%. Dome gained 5% to 60% after announcing that shareholders had approved a proposal to acquire Provo Gas Producers Ltd. on a share exchange basis. Imperial Oil was up 1% last week.

Trans-Canada Pipe Lines and Interprovincial Pipe Line rose 1/4 each to 30% and 22%. Pembina 1/4 to 11% and Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line 1/4 to 19%.

Uranium issues advanced as investors maintained their expectation of good markets and higher prices in the 1970s. The Canadian Nuclear Association recently revised its prediction of uranium demand in 1975 to 35,000 tons from 28,000 tons.

RENEW OIL PROBE

Denison rose 3 1/4 to 78. Preston 1/4 to 21 1/4. Rio Algom 2 1/4 to 37 1/4 and Roman Corp. and Stanrock 1 each to 22 and 44.0.

Stanrock announced it was starting exploration on its Elliot Lake, Ont., property acquired from Stanward Corp. in a recent consolidation of the two companies. Stanward drilled the property in the 1950s with "encouraging results."

In the industrial list, Maple Leaf Gardens rose 2 1/4 to 29 1/2 after announcing a third-quarter dividend of 15 cents plus 1.50 extra. Bell Telephone lost 1 1/4 to 49 1/2 following news that its application to Parliament for a rewritten charter would be the occasion for an inquiry into the company's involvement in the communications industry.

Speculative activity was generally light with PCE Explorations up 8 cents to 1.13 on 1-324,000 shares and United Keno off 65 cents to 5.65.

On index, industrials rose 17 to 168.27, base metals 3.11 to 102.75 and western oils 10.48 to 172.18. Golds lost .91 to 172.73. Volume was 15,222,000 shares compared with 12,841,000 traded last week.

At Montreal, industrials rose 75 to 165.54 and utilities .63 to 148.50. Banks declined 2.68 to 124.42 and papers 1.40 to 111.77. Volume was 4,402,138 shares compared with 6,621,808 traded last week.

TODAY'S STOCK QUOTATIONS

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto Stock Exchange moved fractionally higher in light trading today, following the trend at New York.

The industrial index gained .26 to 168.53.

Western Broadcasting rose 1/4 to a high of 24 1/4 after the company announced plans of a two-for-one stock split subject to shareholder approval. The company also announced plans to increase its quarterly dividend to 18 cents from 15 cents.

Levy and Texaco added 3/4 each to 20 1/2 and 29 and Massey-Ferguson 1/4 to 22 1/4.

Trading in Scurry-Rainbow was delayed by the exchange, pending a detailed release on a company announcement that it had encountered nickel, copper and cobalt mineralization in the Lac la Ronge area of Saskatchewan. The stock closed at 30% Friday.

Cuban Areas Hit By Floods

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — More than 1,000 persons were evacuated from Cuban lowlands and 325 houses were damaged by floods last week after torrential rains battered the Guane area of Pinar del Rio province, Havana radio reported today.

Twenty-five houses collapsed and 50 more were inundated, said the broadcast monitored in Miami. No casualties were reported.

It said the city of Guane was isolated by the rain - swollen Guayateje River.

Rural populations in the low areas of the western part of Pinar del Rio have been evacuated to safer places during the night the radio said.

It added that collapse of houses were also reported in Jan Juan, Martinez, Consolacion del Sur and other municipalities of Pinar del Rio province.

Fireworks, Music, Much To Eat, During City's Centennial Week

Kelowna must realize Centennial comes only "once in a lifetime."

The events planned for the city's centennial week, June 25 to July 1, take in everything from colored water displays to films of the "silent era."

There are 18 big events planned, beginning with a non-denominational Centennial Thanksgiving church service at the Jubilee Bowl at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Should the weatherman fail to realize Centennial is upon us, and provide poor weather, the service will be moved to the Memorial Arena.

The Cassini Players will present a chamber music concert in the Community Theatre at 8:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Moving pictures, including many silent ones, will be shown at the City Park June 25, 27, and 29 beginning at 9:30 p.m. The movies are sponsored by the Kelowna Film Council.

BIG PARADE

The highlight of the week's activities, the Kelowna Centennial Parade, winds its way through the city at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

The parade could be the largest ever seen in Kelowna and is one of the few centennial parades in the province.

Entries have already been received from various Interior centres.

The theme of the parade is basically history.

The Kelowna Chinese centennial committee is entering a float depicting Chinese laborers building Canadian railroads in the 1880s.

The early medicine doctor during the time of confederation will be portrayed in a Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society float.

The float will include an early doctor selling his cure-alls to a crowd of cowboys, Chinese coolies, saloon keepers and enterprisers. A prospector, a lady from the Women's Christian Temperance Union and other citizens of that bygone era.

A second CARS float will represent modern treatment and care of arthritis and rheumatic victims.

The Kelowna Teen Town float will symbolize 25 years of Canadian history and progress.

At least 11 antique cars will chug their way through Kelowna's streets, along with various other vehicles that faded into history many years ago.

Ice wagons, stagecoaches, horse-drawn buggies and carts and donkeys will all be featured, their strange forms contrasted against the sleek automobiles of today.

One of the feature bands participating in the parade, and the only entry from the United States, is the 47-member Wenatchee Elks Band.

Plans are also being discussed to have the band perform an afternoon concert in the City Park Sunday.

Pioneers and long-time residents of Kelowna will be honored and have a prominent place in the parade.

The British Columbia Dragon Pipe Band and color party from Penticton will be marching.

The history and progress of scouting will be displayed in a float by the Central Okanagan scouts and guides.

A cart and donkey, driven by a woman in a centennial dress, has been entered by the British Columbia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The Matheson Elementary School will be available for changing into centennial costume by parade participants.

All parade entries are to be submitted by Thursday.

Parade Committee chairman, Bob Kerr, has urged all local merchants to participate in the parade in some way.

The Kelowna Riding Club will be in full force, with about 120 horses and riders, dressed in early Indian garb, cowboy outfits and early-day costumes.

S. M. Simpson is entering a float showing some of the logging history of the province.

HONORARY MARSHAL: Honorary parade marshal is Premier Bennett. He and Mrs. Bennett will ride in a 1918 model T.

Frank Richter, minister of agriculture, and Mrs. Richter are also scheduled to take part.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson and Mrs. Parkinson will ride in a stagecoach with the first, and this year's Lady-of-the-Lake.

The parade salute will be taken by Col. Alan Moss.

Kelowna aldermen and possibly their wives will be dressed in centennial attire in the parade.

The parade will be an excellent opportunity for everyone to view some of the history of the Valley," he said.

"We hope all local merchants and businessmen will take part and make the parade a real success."

Indications are the parade will be the largest in the city's history, bigger even than Kelowna International Regatta parades.

An Okanagan Regional Library display, Books 100, will also begin Monday. The display, with accompanying explanatory catalogue, will continue for the rest of the week.

Three shows, from June 26 to 28, at the Paramount Theatre, bring onto the screen many of the movie stars of years past.

SILENT ERA: The shows include: Silent Era, Home of Your Own, and World of Comedy.

A centennial art exhibit and showing of slides with accompanying commentary runs from June 27 to 30 at the board room of the Kelowna Parks and Recreation Commission. The shows last from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Pets have not been left out of the activities.

A Kelowna Teen Town sponsored pet parade, open to all children 10 years and under, begins June 27 at 4:30 p.m. Pets and owners will assemble at the Glen Avenue School. Then, led by the city's own Piper, will parade down Lawrence Ave. through the City Park and the City Park Oval. Judging will be held at the Oval.

One child may enter more than one pet in the parade and two children of the same family may enter one pet jointly. Children under school age must be accompanied by parents.

There will be three judges from the Kelowna Lions Club. They will concentrate on the pet's appearance, grooming, condition, evidence of kindness, and originality of display.

No additional points will be awarded to pedigree animals.

A main prize of $10 will be awarded.

Ceremonial retreat parades by members of the three city cadet corps also begin June 27 and continue until June 30. The retreat begins at 8:45 p.m. at the City Park flag pole.

Members of the city's fairer sex have not been ignored in planning the week-long festivities.

A fashion show of authentic centennial costumes will be modelled by the Dr. Knox Chapter of the IOOE at the Aquatic Ballroom June 28. The luncheon begins at 1 p.m. Admission is $1.75.

The Kelowna Water Ski Club will present a water ski demonstration from the Aquatic to the old ferry slip June 28 from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The Canadian Pacific Railway docks and seaplane base will be the scene of a colored water display by the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade at about 9:30 p.m.

Another gala event during Centennial Week is the Gay Nineties Centennial Costume Ball, starting at 9:30 p.m., June 30, in the Kelowna Memorial Arena.

DAY OF FUN: A real old-fashioned picnic, a day of fun, food and entertainment will begin events July 1, the final day of the week's celebrations.

The Kinsmen Club of Kelowna will organize and operate the Confederation community picnic, sponsored by the city's centennial committee.

There will be games, prizes, a midway, races, horseshoe pitching, a pie-eating contest, and an amateur night.

Mostly though, there will be food. The menu includes: a box-car load of potato chips (300 cases), 12,000 hot dog buns, 700 pounds of wieners, 1,000 pounds of hamburger, 10,000 soft drinks, and 12 gallons each of mustard, ketchup and relish.

The day will begin with a decorated bicycle parade at 10 a.m. in the City Park Oval. The action is continuous from that point on.

At 11:30 a.m. the official opening will be held at the grandstand in the park. At noon the midway and food concessions will open and the lucky contest starts.

Sports events will start at 1 p.m., with novelty races for various age groups and possibly swimming events in the Ogoogo Pool.

Horseshoe pitching competitions begin at 2 p.m. with everyone welcome to enter.

Children will enter a tug-of-war game at 4 p.m. and at 5 p.m. time will be called while everyone enjoys a box lunch: bring your own and eat to music.

An amateur night will begin at 7 p.m. on stage in the band shell, continuing to about 9 p.m. when the picnic comes to an end.

A battle of the bands will end festivities for Kelowna's young set at the Kelowna Memorial Arena from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The "battle" is sponsored by the Kelowna Teen Town.

Fireworks will close the curtain on Kelowna's hectic week of celebration. The display begins at 9:30 p.m. in the City Park.

Two Air Cadets Head For Camp

Two members of 243 Ogoogo Squadron, Kelowna air cadets, will have an opportunity this summer to receive further air force training.

Cpl. Robert Johnston, 16, has been selected for a senior leadership course and Cpl. Robert Sweet, 17, has been awarded a flying scholarship.

The leadership course involves seven weeks of training at Camp Borden, Ont. Cpl. Johnston will leave June 30 to join air cadets from across Canada in air force drill, sports, leadership training, character guidance and effective speaking.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnston, 2309 Abbott St., he has been in air cadets for three years and plans a career in the air force. He has attended previous summer camps but not Camp Borden.

Cpl. Sweet will spend four to six weeks at Chilliwack receiving flying instruction and will be awarded his pilot's licence if he completes the training successfully.

He will receive 35 to 40 hours flying time and ground training. He was chosen for the course after receiving top marks in a written examination upon applying for the scholarship.

Cpl. Sweet has flown in RCAF aircraft previously but is looking forward to the flying course as a "real experience". He plans to make flying a part of his future.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Sweet, 747 Patterson Ave.

Their Desire For Fiction Increases With Temperature

Apparently Kelowna readers prefer to do their serious reading in cool weather. In summer their preference runs to fiction.

A report from the Kelowna branch of the Okanagan Regional Library says there was a drop in non-fiction books issued during May and a "healthy rise" in the number of fiction books issued.

The number of books issued during the first five months of this year totalled 77,821, an increase of 1,100 over the same period last year.

For the first time an open air display of books was held at the Okanagan Auto Sports Car Club hill climb in May. A special book list on mechanics and auto sports was featured in the display, which attracted a lot of attention, the librarians say.

Elementary school pupils from the Gordon Avenue school and from Lakeview Heights, some 64 in all, visited the library during May and heard a story and were taken on a tour by Mrs. Bonney Murdoch, regional children's librarian.

Among the new books added to library shelves during May were: To Everything There is a Season, by Roloff Beny, a pictorial record of Canada, also the booklet, Canada, One Hundred, 1867-1967, a special issue of a yearly publication of the federal government.

Kelowna Woman Jailed On Impaired Driving Charge

A Kelowna woman was sentenced to six months in jail on a second offence, impaired driving charge.

Helen Topolinsky, RR 2, was arrested at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, following an accident at Glenmore Street and Bernard Avenue. RCMP Crown prosecutor Myles Novak said the accused sideswiped another vehicle and when she failed to stop the other driver followed her, forcing her to stop. When police arrived she was walking down Bernard Avenue. She had nothing to say in her own defence. Magistrate D. M. White prohibited her from driving for two years.

Michael Joseph Mosser, Clearwater, pleaded guilty to two charges, impaired driving and failing to submit an accident report within a specified time. He was fined $350 on the first charge and $25 on the second.

and was prohibited from driving for three months. The prosecutor said the accused struck a parked car in the 700-block Bernard Avenue, May 21 at 1:25 a.m.

Two men were arrested during the weekend and today pleaded guilty to being intoxicated. James Anthony Charlie, 1660 Ethel St., was arrested at 4:45 p.m. Saturday following a complaint from Long's Super Drugs, Bernard Avenue. He was fined $25.

Paul Martin, Penticton, was picked up by police at 9:25 p.m. Saturday, when he was found staggering on Queensway. He was fined $25.

Wilfred Allen Shepply, Patterson Avenue, was convicted of a charge of having an inadequate muffler and fined $25.

In magistrate's court Saturday, Tom Yumoto, Coronation Avenue, was fined $35 on an intoxication charge.

READY FOR BIG HARVEST

These bins will eventually be filled with part of the Valley apple crop as a record harvest of fruits and vegetables appears probable, according to reports from the horticultural branch of the department of agriculture. A man stands between the rows of bins, indicating their size. Fruit growers throughout the Okanagan are busy preparing for the fruit picking season, which plays a major part of making the Kelowna district a favorite vacation area.

More Caution Called For As Forest Hazard Rises

Two small fires were reported in the Kelowna ranger district last week, bringing this year's total to 15.

One of the fires, near Trempanier Creek, is still burning but under control. The other, by MacDougall Creek near Highway 97, has been put out.

The fire hazard in the district is moderate but rising slowly. Forest Ranger H. C. Hewlett said this morning campers and vacationers should use increased safety measures if the hot weather of recent weeks continues.

The build-up in fire hazards is expected to be province-wide and forest protection officials in all areas are asking all people to exercise extreme caution while in the woods.

The forest-fire situation in most parts of the province is still under control.

A total of 80 new fires were reported last week, bringing the total for the fire season to 543. Only 59 fires are still burning.

A total of 89 were extinguished last week.

Although the number of fires is down considerably from the same period a year ago, firefighting costs have jumped by more than 100 per cent. The cost last year, when 648 fires were reported, was $35,500. The cost this year, with 543 fires reported, is $210,500.

Firefighting costs last week totalled $110,300.

A total of 27 new fires were reported in the Kamloops forest district last week, where the number of fires and the firefighting costs were slightly improved from a year ago.

The number of fires reported to date in the district is 230, four less than the same period a year ago.

Firefighting costs are down almost $10,000 with $25,800 spent to date this year. The cost a year ago was $35,500.

Store Hours Issue Poll Still Delayed

Results of a poll being conducted by the Kelowna Retail Merchants Association to determine the preference of store owners regarding hours their stores are open and closed have not been released.

Part of the problem will be lessened with most stores remaining open six days a week through July and August.

Hec Turvey, president of the KRMA, said some stores remain open all day Wednesday while others close at noon.

A shopper questioned by The Courier today said she was "not confused" by the irregular store hours and planned her shopping around her hours of work. She said she realized some stores were not open Wednesday afternoon.

Another shopper said the uncontrolled hours were confusing but did not affect her as she knew some stores are closed Wednesday afternoons.

Another shopper said she did her shopping any day but Wednesday because some stores are closed. She said the irregular hours must be confusing to tourists.

A store owner said the stores are settling back into the routine set before city council passed a bylaw permitting stores to regulate their own hours and most shoppers have adjusted their shopping accordingly.

Three Mishaps No One Hurt

Three car accidents were reported to police during the weekend. No injuries occurred.

Damage was estimated at $250 in a side-swipe at Highway 97 and Bendoulin Road at 8:45 p.m. Saturday. Drivers were Eileen Greig, RR 2, Kelowna and Nolan McCormick, 1889 Richter St.

James John Kennedy, 1320 McBride Road and Dennis Ulrich Deleurne, 1161 Brookside Ave., were the drivers involved in a two-car collision Saturday at 6:30 p.m. on Brookside Avenue. Damage was estimated at $300.

Another accident occurred at Lake Avenue and Water Street Saturday at 9:30 a.m., between a car driven by Gordon Michael Kennedy, 1320 McBride Road and Donald Faris, 1716 Pandosy St. Damage was estimated at $500.

Union, City Still Talking

Negotiations between the City of Kelowna and 13 striking city electrical workers are continuing, in an effort to reach an agreement.

A spokesman said today a joint statement will be issued when a settlement has been reached by both sides. Further meetings are planned this week.

The electrical workers, members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 215, have been on strike since April 25 for a shorter work week and higher wages. Picketers remain in front of the city hall.

A 10-week strike by electrical workers against the West Kootenay Power and Light Company ended Wednesday. The workers, members of Local 999 (Trail) of the IBEW, settled for a basic 62-cent-an-hour increase for linemen in a two-year contract offered earlier by the company.

A reduction to 37½ hours per week from 40 hours was not part of the settlement.

This is the main issue in the dispute between the city and union in Kelowna.

Showers . . .

Today should be sunny and warm says the weatherman, with a few afternoon cloudy periods and widely scattered showers predicted in the Kootenay and in all regions Tuesday.

The low tonight and high Tuesday should be 54 and 68.

The low and high Saturday was 53 and 67. Sunday the temperature reached a low and high of 52 and 64.

For the same period a year ago, the low and high was 53 and 72.

Former Mayor, Fire Chief James Pettigrew Dead At 81

A man who did much for the City of Kelowna, a former alderman, mayor and fire chief, died in the Kelowna General Hospital Sunday.

James David Pettigrew, 81, of 1961 Abbott St., was a city alderman here from 1938 to 1944 and mayor in 1945 and 1946.

He was one of the founding members of the Kelowna Fire Brigade in 1909 and was fire chief from 1920 until he left the brigade in 1945, when he was named a life-time honorary chief.

He spent his entire life in the manufacturing, jewellery and watchmaking business and in later years, in repairing.

Born in Winnipeg, he received his early education and training in the jewellery and watchmaking trade there. He came to Kelowna in 1907, first working for Knowles Jewellery and before going into business for himself in the wholesale manufacturing line. He retired in 1964.

Mr. Pettigrew was an ardent sportsman, active in war canoeing, baseball and field lacrosse. He was a former president of the Kelowna Gyro Club.

In 1920 he married the former Ethel Kerr of Kelowna who died here in 1950.

Surviving are his second wife, the former Marie dePlyffer of Kelowna, a daughter Margaret (Mrs. W. M. Stell), Deep River, Ont., two grandchildren Ian and Jennifer, a brother Charles Edward, Victoria, two sisters, Ida (Mrs. George Kennedy), and Mrs. Olive Nell, both of Kelowna.

JAMES PETTIGREW service to city

Also surviving are two stepsons Charles dePlyffer, Kelowna, and Robert dePlyffer, Vernon, two step-daughters, Alice (Mrs. J. L. Neave) Kelowna and Marie (Mrs. R. Fabro) New Westminster. Also 14 step-grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m., from the First United Church with Rev. E. H. Birdall officiating. Burial will be in the Kelowna Cemetery.

Clarke and Dixon are in charge of the arrangements.

Two Secondary Schools Weekend Target Of Thieves

Two secondary schools were broken into during the weekend and $375 in cheques and cash taken from one.

L. S. Green, vice-principal, told police at 11:35 a.m. Sunday, the Dr. Knox Secondary School had been entered and a safe broken into. Police investigation disclosed the missing cheques and $300 to $100 in silver missing. There was no sign of how entry was gained.

Police were told of the break-in at the Kelowna Secondary School, Harvey Avenue, at 12:10 p.m. Sunday. Entry was gained by breaking a window in a door and removing door bolts.

A second room, containing keys, was entered in the same manner and the key to a workshop taken. Police said the keys were old ones and since the locks had been changed, no entry was gained into the workshop. Nothing was reported missing.

A cabin at the Mountain Shadows Motel was reported entered and $60 in cash and clothing taken. The total value of the loss was estimated at $225. Missing are two raincoats, a black woollen sweater, a red sport shirt, slacks, passport and two drivers licences, the property of William Hamilton, Surrey. Police said there is a possibility an acquaintance may have taken the items by mistake.

Gerald Wayne Bentley of the Red Top Motel, 1688 Glenmore St., reported the loss of two ladies' rings valued at $180 to police at 8:25 p.m. Sunday. He said the rings were left along-side the motel pool between 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. and were never found again. One is a diamond solitaire and the other a black pearl.

A 12-foot white fibreglass boat was found Sunday on Okanagan Lake near Okanagan Mission. Anyone wishing to claim it may contact the RCMP. The boat has the number 258 on the stern.

EYE ON KELOWNA

A Racing Canadian Muncey's Desire

Success in unlimited hydroplane racing is measured by the cupful-Gold Cup variety.

And a man who has won four Gold Cups feels it's time a Canadian boat joined the chase.

Bill Muncey, the most successful unlimited driver in history, says he is willing to help any Canadian break into the supercharged sport.

As western commissioner of the American Power Boat Association, Muncey is in an excellent position to provide such assistance. The APBA is the organization which would have to sanction any Canadian entry.

"I wish we could get a Canadian boat running on the unlimited circuit again," Muncey said in an interview, noting the last Canadian competitor was Miss Superboat, which raced during the 1960s.

"If anyone in Canada is interested in acquiring an unlimited boat and getting into the sport on a sound basis, I'll be glad to help any way I can," Muncey said.

Canada does have one strong link with unlimited racing at present.

The "thunderboats" in 1966 returned to the country after a 10-year absence, to compete for the British Columbia Cup on Kelowna's Lake Okanagan.

Muncey, 38, competed in that race as the driver of $ Bill, and recorded the fastest lap (105.386 miles per hour) and fastest heat (99.264 miles per hour) over the 2.5-mile course. He finished second to Tahoe Miss.

Muncey drove $ Bill because his regular craft,

Politics As A Career Can Be Rewarding

Speaking at the spring convocation of Queen's University, M. J. Coldwell spoke of the need for young people to enter politics and other areas of the public service. He emphasized that politics is not necessarily a dirty game, that good men can keep it clean and drive the mediocre into the wilderness.

It is so true, as Mr. Coldwell said, that politics is a career where men of integrity and talent can do more good for their country and derive more satisfaction from their lives than other men of equal talent derive from making mountains of money in the business world. A true statesman, with the power to mould public opinion, can be a vital force for good.

Mr. Coldwell said something else that should be said more often, and that concerns the average MP in the Ottawa of today. "On the whole," he said, "I have found that most members of the House of Commons are there because they wish to serve our electors and serve our country."

No finer advocate of the essential nobility of politics as a profession could be found than Mr. Coldwell, the former leader of the New Democratic party, now 78. He is an outstanding example of an idealist who has helped give the stark world of political realism some dignity.

Politics in this and other countries has always had its outstanding leaders, men who lifted the whole profession to the heights. Blake, Laurier, Borden, Meighen, Woodsworth, Crerar, Ralston, Cardin, St. Laurent, Coldwell—these are but a few. All of them were men of nobility.

The trouble is, as Mr. Coldwell understands, that not enough of our MPs are people of high quality. This is because politics has a bad name in this country. It's reputation would swiftly improve if talented young people took the former NDP leader's advice and entered public service.

Baffling Traffic Signs

In Westchester County, New York, you no longer see the traffic sign warning "Elephant Crossing." The sign was taken down after an errant elephant was recaptured.

However, the B.C. Automobile Association reports, there are many amusing and puzzling traffic signs scattered along North America's highways. There's even a Museum of Unusual Traffic Signs, a part of the Cata-pulse Institute of Traffic Psychology at Toledo, Ohio.

This one, near the First Congregational Church at Baiting Hollow, Long Island, is designed to give the motorist pause:

"Thou Shalt Not Speed—Church Zone."

Confusion about the proper way to get where you want to go has led to the posting of at least two signs. One, at King's Canyon National Park in California, warns: "This is NOT the Road to Fresno." Another, in Delaware, just beyond a "Y" intersection, bears this disturbing information: "This is NOT U.S. 40."

In Nebraska, a sign along the approach to a curve gave the safe maximum speed, "30 MPH." But motorists ignored it, and the Department of Roads changed the sign to read: "We Are Not Fooling—30 MPH." It was successful, so a similar sign was posted at another dangerous curve.

Diamond-shaped signs normally are designed to carry notice to the motorist to be careful of a hazard ahead. One in Dayton, Ohio, "warns" the motorist that there is "No Signal Ahead."

Stop signs appear to pose a problem—and sometimes a chance for levity—in certain areas.

A message in New Haven, printed on the standard red octagon-shaped stop sign in the standard white letters, says "Hesitate."

In the Province of Alberta, traffic officials couldn't find a Cree Indian word for "Stop." They solved the problem by using the nearest Cree word, which means "Whoa" in English.

And in Watrace, Tennessee, the Chamber of Commerce, of that centre of the Tennessee walking horse may have had a hand in the stop signs, which also read "Whoa."

The Fresno (Calif.) Sportsmen's Club erected this warning: "Slow—Pheasant Crossing—Drive Carefully—Thank You."

Those who get on the bangtails come in for special consideration at 33rd and Cicero Avenue in Chicago, where a sign reads: "Caution—Drive With Care—Horse Players Path."

On U.S. 301 in North Carolina, a traffic engineer reported seeing a sign warning: "Somewhere Ahead—Radar."

A bridge project over Cerritos Channel, a favorite spot with water skiers, brought these warning signs: "Construction Zone—Ski Carefully."

The Maine Highway Commission keeps spares on hand because souvenir hunters keep swiping the cluster of directional signs which read: "Norway, 14 mi.; Paris, 15 mi.; Denmark, 23 mi.; Naples, 23 mi.; Sweden, 25 mi.; Poland, 27 mi.; Mexico, 37 mi.; Peru, 46 mi.; and China, 94 mi."

A grade crossing in Illinois informs the driver: "Average train passes this crossing in 14 seconds—whether your car is on it or not."

A highway sign in Long Island cautions: "Drive Carefully—Don't Insist on Your Rites." One in Virginia says: "Drive Carefully—Careless Children." And a headstone-type marker outside Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio, puts it this way: "Drive Carefully—Hell Ain't Half Full."

The council cheerfully agreed and the shed with the old No. 1 San Francisco fire engine will be moved to the back of the firehall.

The city council was asked by the Bank of Montreal to remove the old engine shed from the lot on the NW corner of Water Street and Bernard Avenue, as the bank intends to build there. The council cheerfully agreed and the shed with the old No. 1 San Francisco fire engine will be moved to the back of the firehall.

In Passing

Two provinces have relaxed their liquor laws. Visitors to Prince Edward Island may now carry an open bottle of liquor in their luggage. And Islanders will no longer need permits to make purchases at government liquor stores. In Alberta, liquor can be served with meals on Sunday, beer parlors and beverage rooms can stay open till midnight, cocktail bars to 1 a.m. and cabarets to 2 a.m.

A toast: Here's to the joyrider and the jaywalker—may they never meet.

Cashless Society's Vanguard Hardly Tries To Be Secret

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—As the advance agent of the cashless society, the credit card has hardly tried to hide its identity. It is known now to millions of North Americans.

It has trumpeted its presence in countless advertisements, been promoted through trading stamps, touted by skywriters, offered to names culled blindly from college class lists.

And, aside from having given a lot of people the false idea that the dollar bill will be obsolete, it is involved in a controversy in the United States that throbs in the once conventional world of banking, since banks are issuing most of the cards.

Early this year an American banking executive said the little money cards were being made available "promiscuously," without regard to traditional banking practices. The Federal Reserve is concerned with their possible link to inflation, the thought being that, since a credit card always comes back into your hands after use and a dollar doesn't, overspending might thus be encouraged.

Another banker warns that the credit card society may indeed be the forerunner of the cashless society, because so many people will overspend

Some bankers, in fact, have declined to get in on what they call the card craze. As a substitute, these bankers permit overdrafts of regular checking accounts.

These are among the manoeuvrings and controversies that may well be the predecessors of the chequless and cashless society. They are part of an evolution to automation. The outcome isn't clear, but the card is its present symbol.

Once these cards were associated mostly with dining, entertainment and travel. But the hundreds of cards issued by banks can do anything money can do except light cigars.

Already the card has become a major form of instalment credit through arrangements between banks and department stores. Both buyer and seller benefit. The buyer obtains credit through possession of the card. The seller receives full payment from the bank, which then collects the "easy payments."

This process, too, is evolving. The many credit cards could, conceivably, be replaced someday by a universal card good almost anywhere. This card would be a person's chief identification.

Some day, the visionaries say, a person might not even see his pay stub. His salary might be deducted electronically from his employer's account and credited to his. Perhaps his bills would be paid automatically also. He hardly would need cash.

Spree Volunteers Needed For Test

WASHINGTON (CP) — The cloudy world of men chronically off on a spree is going to be the focus of a three-year U.S. research program costing more than $500,000.

Male volunteers aged 30 to 45 "with at least a five-year history of spree drinking" will be the backbone of the study conducted at Boston, says the National Institute of Mental Health.

The emphasis will be on behavior before, during and after inebriation. "Previous studies have depended on retrospective reports on drinking behavior from alcoholics when sober," says the institute. "Experience has shown that such reports are often unreliable."

"Attention will be paid to how much the subjects drink in various situations, whether they drink most when alone or in a group, whether they are willing to perform useful work to obtain alcohol, whether in certain situations money or companionship is preferred to alcohol."

"The role of physical, psychological and social variables will be the major focal points." The project is getting one of the first grants from the National Centre for the Prevention and Control of Alcoholism, recently established within the mental health institute.

He Became Instant Pilot

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — With the pilot slumped dead on the controls, a Brazilian automobile mechanic found himself flying a light plane on the basis of casual questions asked only minutes before.

The plane belonged to the engineering firm which employs 46-year-old Francisco de Paula Thomaz. The pilot was an old friend, Osvaldo Marra de Silva. Together they were making a two-hour flight.

The pilot had shown Thomaz how to make the aircraft climb and descend and how to operate the throttle.

Less than an hour later, Silva, after reporting he was suffering from asthma, began to pale.

"I can't breathe," he said, falling onto the controls. The engine accelerated slightly, and the plane began a slow climb.

Thomaz remained calm. He got the pilot's body off the controls and took stock of the situation.

"Think," he said to himself, "that by pushing the stick like this . . . there! It's starting to go down."

He steered toward a blue hole in the thick cloud covering, picked out a bright green pasture as the most likely landing spot and began his descent. The left wheel was torn off by a rock, throwing the plane onto its side. Another rock ripped off the door.

When the plane came to rest, Thomaz was soaked by gasoline that sprayed from the engine, but had only a small cut

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Measles Dangerous So Get Those Shots!

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOINER

Dear Dr. Moiner:

We have recently moved and have a new doctor. He recommends measles vaccine for our children, aged 1 to 5, while our former physician did not (although he would have administered it on request) due to the remote possibility of serious side effects. What is your opinion?

Also in controversy was the "four-in-one" vs. "three-in-one" vaccination. Mrs. C.S.H.

I have decided opinions on the measles vaccine. Measles is a dangerous disease with a variety of known complications, of which mental retardation is one. In 1965, the last full year for which I have seen figures, there were more than 400 deaths in this country from measles; the number of deaths was vastly larger.

As against that, of 170,000 vaccine doses of which I have direct knowledge and 3,600 in my own personal experience, I have observed no ill effects of any consequence. Widespread surveys also bear this out.

Hence I can only conclude that the risk of measles vaccination is small, whereas the danger of the disease is indisputably great.

Of course, we observe certain precautions, such as not giving the vaccine (which is made of virus grown in egg embryo tissue) to children who are allergic to eggs. It is important to be sure that no serious skin condition exists, or other circumstances indicating not to give the injection. And we make it a point not to give the inoculation if the child has a cold or temperature is elevated. All this is part of avoiding even lesser side effects.

As to the 3-in-1 or 4-in-1 vaccines, this doesn't seem to be a very serious controversy. The 3-in-1 for diphtheria, whooping cough (pertussis) and lockjaw (tetanus), and hence called DPT, has been in use for quite a few years with success. When the polio vaccine came along, it was incorporated into the same multiple vaccine for those who wanted it.

The question largely comes down to whether a physician prefers to use the 4-in-1 or whether to use the older triple vaccine and give the polio vaccine separately. With the 4-in-1 he is using the Salk-type of killed-virus polio vaccine. If he prefers the oral-type polio vaccine, which must be given by mouth rather than by needle, then he uses only the triple DPT.

Personally I have no particular feeling one way or the other—so long as every child is protected.

Dear Dr. Moiner: When my son was 18 he had mumps which went down his testes. What are his chances of fathering children?—MRS. S.

This can cause sterility, but not necessarily always. Only way to get the answer is send him to a doctor for tests. Fertility may be adequate if only one testis is affected.

Dear Dr. Moiner: I have heard that cocoa contains a considerable amount of caffeine, equal to or greater than tea or coffee.

My children enjoy chocolate milk often, but sometimes are wakeful at night, and I wondered if this could be from excess chocolate.—MRS. W.M.

Cocoa and chocolate comes from the cacao plant which contains a substance called theobromine. This is akin to caffeine chemically but it does NOT have the stimulating effect of caffeine.

Therefore it is not true that chocolate drinks "contain as much caffeine as coffee or tea," and I think it is high time this erroneous idea be put out of circulation. Chocolate drinks are wholesome, and I doubt that they have any part in causing the youngsters' wakefulness.

Ferdinand Maximilian, Emperor of Mexico, was shot by republican troops 100 years ago today—in 1867. He became emperor of Mexico in 1864 after French intervention in that country, but his position was impossible politically, strategically and economically. In January 1866 the French troops that kept him in power were withdrawn on United States insistence and republican forces under Benito Juarez staged a comeback culminating in the capture, court-martial and execution of Maximilian.

What, No Pink Gins For Rhodesians?

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) The white Rhodesian is having to give up his pink gin at midday.

Liquor stores no longer have the bitters that color the gin. It's one of the luxuries Rhodesians must forego in their struggle with restrictions imposed by the United Nations at Britain's behest.

But few essentials are lacking here, and it looks as if the Rhodesians can manage for considerable time, even though prices are up and agriculture is suffering.

Only top government sources know precisely how the economic war is going, but government statistics show exports last year totalled $293,000,000 against $471,000,000 in 1965.

More than 200 new industrial projects have been started since independence was declared in 1965, mainly to manufacture products no longer imported. Some of these are minor, but Rhodesia goes on the pretext that every little bit helps.

The international oil embargo appears to have failed to affect the economy seriously, but the price of rationed gasoline is up 20 per cent.

Unemployment has not been as bad as many forecast. The government has absorbed some of the whites by creating extra jobs in the public service and in the police reserve—whites who support the full-time police force.

ECONOMY SUFFERING

The economy has suffered many scars nevertheless. Many profitable and substantial export outlets have gone, some for good. The oil market in Zambia to the north has been lost. Zambia's imports of Rhodesian coal have slumped and it is cutting import of Rhodesian goods as fast as it can find replacements.

Rhodesia's state-controlled railway system is reported running $1,400,000 a month in the red. Its most profitable freight had been Zambian copper for ports in Mozambique. Only a fifth of the former copper traffic now is being handled through Rhodesia.

Both the Ford and the British Motor Corp. automobile assembly plants were forced to stop production because sanctions cut their assembly supplies.

Some sections of agriculture are in desperate straits. Sugar crashed when the declaration of independence ended the British commonwealth sugar preference while world sugar prices ebbed. Thousands of tons of sugar lie heaped in pyramids on plantations. This season's crop will be cut to 60 per cent of the 1966 figure.

Tobacco, which brought Rhodesia $98,000,000 a year before independence, has been the major sufferer. It is estimated roughly half the crop is still stockpiled inside Rhodesia.

Estimates by economists indicate life for most people is going to get tougher by the month.

Farmers are offered higher prices for wheat, peanuts and soybeans in a move to encourage diversification.

UN sanctions apply to Rhodesia's important mineral exports of asbestos, chrome and copper. However, about $7,000,000 worth of chrome is reported to have gone since independence to the United States, West Germany, Japan and South Africa.

COSTS UP

The cost of imported goods has risen sharply, with new sources of supply to replace British products. Costs also have risen because of payments to middlemen in South Africa or one of the other neighboring territories through which many imports are now channelled.

Without South African help, especially in getting oil, Rhodesia would be in a sorry situation. There are no official figures on South Africa-Rhodesia trade but it has soared.

Agricultural machinery is up 100 to 200 per cent. Clothing is up three to four per cent and traders, with turnover sagging because they lack things the public wants, are increasing their markups.

The government's current thinking is that a high level of economic activity can be maintained at least another 18 months. It seems to feel that more holes will appear in the sanctions curtain.

CANADA'S STORY

Twenty-Three Died In Seven Oaks Fight

By BOB BOWMAN

Until Lord Selkirk began his Red River settlement in 1812 there were only hunters and fur-traders on the prairies. Selkirk's plan to develop the area for farming was strongly opposed by the Northwest Company and even by the Hudson's Bay Company traders. Selkirk got his way by buying a majority interest in the HBC and controlled 116,000 square miles of territory for which he paid 10 shillings.

The new settlers were often attacked and driven from their homes by the "North Westers" whose slogan was "when you are among wolves, howl!" The worst clash came on June 19, 1816, when Governor Semple left Fort Douglas to intercept a party of 70 armed "North Westers" and met them on the opposite bank of the river. Angry words led to shots being fired, and during the fighting Semple and 22 of his men were killed. The skirmish became known as the "Battle of Seven Oaks."

The "North Westers" then looted the settlement and forced 200 men, women and children to leave in canoes for Lake Winnipeg. In the meantime, Miles MacDonell, one of Selkirk's officers at Red River, travelled as fast as he could to Sault Ste. Marie where he met Selkirk coming from Montreal with a force of 100 trained soldiers.

Selkirk decided to raid the Northwest post at Fort William. There he arrested a number of directors of the Northwest Company including Simon Fraser, Dr. John McLoughlin, and William McDougal for whom Fort William was named.

These men, who were famous pioneers, had not been responsible for the raids on Selkirk's Red River settlement, but were sent east under guard. In the Northwest headquarters at Fort William Selkirk found some of his mail that had been intercepted while on its way to Red River.

The raid on Fort William cost Selkirk dearly. The Northwest Company had a great deal of influence in the courts in Canada and Selkirk was fined 2,000 pounds. The "North Westers" were never penalized. Selkirk left Canada in 1818 and died two years later, his health broken. Yet his Red River colony survived and eventually prospered. The original settlement called Kildonan is now part of the city of Winnipeg.

June Wedding Is Followed By Honeymoon In Europe

The wedding of Marlene Jessie Pearce and Nicholas August Blom took place at St. Michael and All Angels' Church on June 3 at 6:30 p.m. with Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Pearce of Kelowna, and groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jan Blom of Pitt Meadows, B.C.

Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie fashioned on Empire lines with a lace bodice encrusted with hand sewn pearls and above-the-elbow sleeves. A lace band, also encrusted with pearls, held her bouffant veil of French illusion net in place, and she carried a bouquet of orchids which she later presented to her grandmother, Mrs. F. Pearce.

Miss Karen Madore of Vancouver who was the bride's sole attendant, was charming in a long, sleeveless dress of cerise silk crepe, with a short waisted matching overblouse with elbow length sleeves. Her rose flowered headpiece matched her dress, and she carried a bouquet of carnations en tone.

Acting as best man was Joost Blom of Pitt Meadows.

At the reception, held at the Eldorado Arms Hotel, the mother of the bride rose and wearing a two piece aqua blue ensemble of banded ribbon lace, a white hat with aqua trim, and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother, who assisted her in receiving the guests, chose a two piece dress in a black and white print, a black pill box hat, black and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Joseph Rogers of Oliver proposed the toast to the bride, which was ably answered by the groom, and the best man gave the toast to the bridesmaid and read a telegram of congratulation from Queen Juliana of the Netherlands as well as a number of messages from friends and relatives.

The U-shaped supper table was decorated with arrangements of gladioli, carnations, and rose buds, flanked with silver candles, and on a separate bride's table, covered with a linen and lace cloth was a three tiered wedding cake separated by pillars, and topped with white rose buds from the bride's grandparents' 60th wedding anniversary. The cake was made by the bride's mother.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. F. Pearce of Summerland, grandparents of the bride, Mr.

and Mrs. Joseph Rogers of Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. J. Reynolds of Kimberley.

Before leaving on her honeymoon to Europe the bride changed to a powder blue three piece ensemble complemented with white accessories and white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Blom will reside at No. 18, 1311 Beach Avenue, Vancouver.

Actettes Ladies' Auxiliary Celebrate Third Anniversary

The Actettes Ladies Auxiliary to the Associated Canadian Travellers Club have established a partially new slate of executive and directors due to three elected members moving from Kelowna before the fall session commences in September.

The new executive will be Mrs. Leo Berg, president; Mrs. Robert Johnson, residing past president; Mrs. Jack Hatch, vice-president, and Mrs. Dick Granger, secretary-treasurer. Directors will be Mrs. Warren Stonell, ways and means; Mrs. Lou Fox, membership; Mrs. Bill Cross, publicity; Mrs. Al Martin, entertainment; and Mrs. Peter Nowicki, parliamentarian.

Having recently celebrated their third anniversary the Actettes have progressed into a very active and worthwhile club which enjoys an exceptionally large turnout for meeting and projects. Catering of refreshments and home baking at a concert put on by the Ella Stonell Baton and Tap Dancing School on June 16 was the Actettes most recent fund raising project, and a dinner dance sponsored by the Actettes and the ACT Club, to be held on June 24 at Norm's, will be a social event highlighted by entertainment provided by the Actettes in the form of a song and dance routine.

ANN LANDERS

Selling Accessories Isn't Against The Law

Dear Ann Landers: I have been reading you for years and I thought I had heard everything, but I ran across a news item in the paper today that is more fantastic than anything I have ever read in your column.

Here in Santa Barbara a new place of business has opened. It is called The Psychodelic Shop. They sell accessories for smoking marijuana, pot pipes, "roach" (cigarette papers) and toys to amuse people while on LSD trips. They also offer paintings, jewelry and drawings by young artists and far-out phallic sculpture.

The police chief insists he cannot close the shop because there is no law against it. He also said, "We can't shut down a place of business just because some people don't like it."

As a courageous crusader who has always upheld high moral standards, will you please say something about authorities who hide behind the law to permit such an establishment to operate?—SANTA BARBARA CITIZEN

Dear Santa: I can't see that anybody is hiding behind anything. The police chief stated that he is unable to make an arrest because no law has been broken. If the shop sold marijuana or LSD the chief could and would padlock it at once, but selling accessories is not against the law.

Dear Ann Landers: Here is a belated thank you. Three years ago my wife sent for your booklet on alcoholism. She was no drinker but I was. That booklet lay on the dresser for three months and finally one night I decided to read it even though I was not ready to admit I had a drinking problem.

Reading your booklet was the first step toward ending a living hell. I recognized myself in those pages and finally had to admit I was an alcoholic. Here are a few things I don't have to worry about anymore:

- 1) My wife leaving me.
- 2) Excuses for being away from work.
- 3) Excuses for being too "stir" to go places.
- 4) What to say to bill collectors when they come to the house and I can't pay because I am broke.
- 5) Where did I leave the car last night?

How did I get home?

(7) Did I say anything in front of the kids that I ought to be ashamed of?

I could go on for pages, but I think you have the idea. Your booklet made me go to Alcoholics Anonymous, and there I found the help I needed. I know now the only difference between a drunk in a penthouse and a drunk in the gutter is the height that separates them.—THANK-FUL

Dear Thankful: So am I. I appreciate your letter more than I can say.

Dear Ann Landers: In a recent column you told a wife whose husband was interested in wife swapping . . . "sure, people get curious, and sometimes it doesn't take them 20 years, but curiosity, is no excuse for behaving like animals."

On behalf of such animals as lions, Canada geese, and others, cardinals and almost any type except cowbirds, I object. They wouldn't dream of such behavior!

I was sure you knew better.

—TORONTO EDITOR

Dear Editor: My apologies to the lions, Canada geese, others, cardinals and all others whom I offended by lumping them with humans. You are right. I should have known better.

East Kelowna WI Plans June Picnic

Members of the East Kelowna Women's Institute answered the roll call with their "favorite hobby" at the June meeting held Saturday at the home of Mrs. F. Riches, with the president in the chair.

As only a few members were able to attend, the meeting was very informal. The financial statement was given, and a discussion took place as to where the Annual Picnic would be held, the final decision being to visit the Animal Park in Penticton on June 22.

The president then gave a short description of her visit to Expo '67 during her recent trip to Montreal.

After thanking Mrs. Riches for the use of her home the meeting adjourned and afternoon tea was served by the hostesses Mrs. David Evans and Mrs. I. Fairweather.

Mixed Pairs Next Feature At Bridge Club

Ray Wilkinson of Peachland was welcomed as a guest at the third event in the summer series at the Kelowna Contract Bridge Club at the Capri Motor Hotel.

Winners at the twelve tables playing straight Mitchell movement, on Wednesday evening were: N/S First Mrs. Dennis Purcell and William Hepperle; second Vince Osborne and Robert Stewart; third R. Tait and G. Evans, and fourth Dr. W. G. Evans and J. H. Garroway.

E/W First Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Real; second M. Granger and J. Rose; third Mrs. O. Bowman and Mrs. J. Vanatter and fourth Mrs. J. Bennest and Mrs. P. MacRae.

Next Wednesday's session promises to be a very interesting event, as it will be the monthly Master Point evening and play will be in mixed pairs.

Players wishing a partner are requested to arrive early. Guests are always welcome.

AROUND TOWN

Pioneer resident Mrs. Christine Haynes, who was born and brought up in the Okanagan, celebrated her 95th birthday on Thursday, June 15, when friends and relatives gathered at her home in Benvoulin for a surprise birthday party. The refreshments were highlighted by a big white birthday cake, and many incidents of Kelowna's early days were recalled. Mrs. Haynes received many gifts, flowers and cards from members of her family and friends who were unable to attend, and during the week prior to her birthday she was feted by Mrs. James Burbridge at a party of her older pioneer friends where Mrs. Nigel Pooley painted her portrait.

The first of the popular Twilight golf tournaments of the year held at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club Saturday evening started off the summer season with a good entry. These popular nine-hole mixed tournaments are convened by both the men's and ladies' entertainment committees, and on Saturday night play was followed by a delicious buffet supper of gourmet bread, beef and salads.

Spending a month in Kelowna visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Turcotte is the latter's father, Charles Kreig from Preston, Ontario. This is Mr. Kreig's second summer visit to the Okanagan.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Langton are spending a few days at the Coast, and on their return this week will have as their guest their niece Mrs. Eleanor Howard from Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Darby Hayes have returned to their home in Casa Loma following a holiday spent in California.

Leaving next week to spend the summer months in New Brunswick are Miss June Mitchell and Miss Lynn Blennerhasset. Miss Mitchell, who is head assistant teacher at the Canadian School of Ballet, will be on the teaching staff of the new Eastern Ballet School at Sackville, N.B., which is being modelled on the lines of the Banff School of Fine Arts, and Miss Blennerhasset will spend the summer there as a student. Before returning to Kelowna in the fall the two friends plan to visit Montreal and Expo '67.

NEED TRANSPORTATION
EDMONTON (CP)—A six-ton centennial project is waiting in Edmonton, seeking sponsors to supply transportation to Montreal. It is a granite rock blasted from a mountain near Rocky Mountain House, Alta., starting point of the centennial voyagers' canoe pageant. Knut Sundie and Bernard Killick of Alhambra, Alta., near Rocky Mountain House, are attempting to get the rock to Montreal to mark the spot where the canoeists land at Expo '67 at the end of their cross-Canada journey.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"Please don't scare him with those grave looks."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fowler and family were recent visitors to Calgary for a few days holiday, making the journey by car.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Zarr and family left this week for a visit to various Prairie points, mainly in Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kroschinsky have just returned from a motor trip to Montreal, where they visited Expo '67. Mr. Kroschinsky says that the long delays and line-ups, reported by many, occur only at week-ends, when the large influx of visitors, particularly from the United States, arrives. On other days they encountered few delays, the longest being 10 minutes in one line-up. The exhibits were deeply impressive, but mainly for adults, he stated, due to their size and scope.

Packers from the Kelowna Growers' Exchange Rutland house gathered at the home of Mrs. John Jaeger on the Belgo on Thursday afternoon, June 15, to wish Mrs. Fred Bleasdale happiness and good fortune in her new home at Vernon. Afternoon tea was served on the shady lawn of the Jaeger's residence and a pleasant social time was spent. Mrs. Bleasdale was presented with an attractive and useful gift from her former associates at the K.G.E., Rutland, where her late husband was manager. Co-hostess for the affair was Mrs. Arthur Gray.

Slides And Social Evening Enjoyed At Diabetic Meet

The North Okanagan Diabetic Association held their last meeting in the Vernon Health Unit on Monday, June 12, 1967.

As this was the last meeting until fall a social evening was enjoyed by all. All present were pleased to hear that several children from the North Okanagan area will be attending Camp Kakhemela in Oyama this August. Also a Kelowna business sent samples of all the sugarless candy now available. The evening was concluded with slides of the Rose Bowl parade shown by Mrs. Britton.

An interesting film about Diabetes will be shown at the next meeting on Sept. 25 and we urge all Diabetics to attend.

Royals Still Win Vernon Hot Also

When you can't do anything wrong, everything must go right. That's the way things are going for the Royal Anne Royals.

The first place club ran its unbeaten streak to 11 games with a 6-4 win over Willow Inn Willows at King's Stadium Sunday. And they did it with some dubious but effective strategy.

In the sixth inning, Royals trailed 6-2. Wally Sehn, Willows chucker, got the first man out. But Mike Meehan singled. Then Royals yanked pitcher Neil Neville for a pinch hitter named Buzz Jones who promptly drew a walk.

With Tom Hamanishi due at bat, Al Horning, Royals' manager, looked for Ken McCready. But the handyman had strayed away so in went Nick Bulack.

He sustained the rally with a base hit. Then Rich Bullock doubled home two runs, and Wayne Horning brought in two more with another two-base hit.

LOSER'S CLEAN UP
The four-run rally was enough as Gib Loseth came in and allowed just one base-runner and no hits in the final four innings.

Royals managed 10 hits off loser Sehn. The veteran right-hander struck out three men and walked five plus hitting one better.

His chief nemesis was Rich Bullock who had two hits in three at-bats and walked twice. Norb Korthals had two hits including a homer.

Neville worked five innings and gave up all four Willow runs. In his stint, he had four strikeouts, walked one and gave up five hits.

Grant Armeau was the only Willow to have two hits — both off Neville. He also drove in two runs.

Willows scored three in the second inning on hits by the Armeau brothers and Rob Pyle. They built up a 4-2 lead in the fourth on hits by Grant Armeau and Garrie Howard. That was their last safety.

THIS IS WHAT STOCK car racing fans go to see — the action of a flip at the Billy Foster Memorial Speedway south of Kelowna. Here Pete Smirl rolls in a cloud of dust coming out of the wet north corner in Sunday's modified fast heat. The trouble for the problem-plagued Smirl began when Greg McClelland spun in car 56. Smirl and Gary Hutcheon (10) tangled and Smirl turned over so quickly he hardly had time to get worried. Neil Roth (25) moved inside to avoid the trouble and watched as Smirl's tough safety equipment saved him from injuries. (See story below).

Okanagan Sun Too Hot So They'll Race At Night

By RON ALLERTON
Things got a bit hot Sunday at the Billy Foster Memorial Speedway.

In fact they got more than a bit hot, so instead of having stock car racing fans broil under the Okanagan sun on Sunday afternoons the Kelowna Stock Car Club has decided to race Saturday night.

Beginning next weekend the racing will start at 6 p.m. Saturday. Current plans call for time trials to be held Wednesday night, so by Saturday the starting positions will be set for all races and fans will have fewer delays.

The Saturday evening races have proven popular at a number of Pacific Northwest circuits and almost always the crowds have been larger than on hot Sunday afternoons.

In Sunday's racing Dave Bismeyer was the only driver able to win more than once.

The clever driver of the grey 48 picked up two wins, to run his season's total to four, only one behind the early-late class leader, Drew Kitchin.

Jerry Fink, of Castlegar, posted the fastest time in the time trials to gain the post position in the modified trophy dash.

Moving out steadily after starter Ralph Foster dropped the green flag, Fink grabbed a big lead and won easily, ahead of Neil Roth and Bob Bifford.

Lyle (The Viking) Hickson, no stranger to the trophy dash, lost a wheel on the south corner, while running second, in the fourth lap, and for a change he finished the race watching from a sand bank.

A small crowd braved the heat to watch 27 drivers put their cars through 160 laps in 10 events, made tougher than usual by water on the north corner. The water, believed to be from Shannon Lake, kept seeping up through the pavement and caused problems all day.

Bismeyer made good use of his post position in the early-late trophy dash, taking the checkered flag seven car lengths ahead of Drew Kitchin and Vaughan Coggan.

The first start of the day was necessary in the modified fast heat, a 20-lap ride for seven cars.

Pete Smirl, the tough luck driver of the year, flipped coming out of the north corner, when Greg McClelland spun and Gary Hutcheon clobbered Smirl.

After Don Smith and Al Borrett tangled on the south corner Neil Roth took over and crossed the line ahead of Hutcheon and Bifford.

Wayne Higgins took a quick lead in the fast heat for early-lates, but his motor quit on the seventh lap of the 15-lap ride and Ab Funk took a lead he never relinquished.

Following Funk past officials Foster and Wilf O'Brien were Coggan and Bismeyer.

Noll Derriksan led eight drivers into the 20-lap modified slow heat and The Warrior led for nine laps until he ran into wheel trouble and Art Sheeler took over.

The drivers watched Harold Bridge put his car off the track into the sand on the south turn, then Sheeler eased off for a leisurely drive into first place, while Harold Enevoldson and Bill Schmidt finished second and third.

Penticton's Bob Morcombe made his post position stand up all the way, as he took the 15-lap early-late slow heat, Joe Sabatine and Verne Hankle chased Morcombe across the line.

Roth, Smirl and Hickson put on the best race of the season in the 25-lap, 15-car A main for modifieds.

The three veteran drivers, led by Roth, waged a fierce battle for first place, while the rest of the pack fell behind.

Roth, who was one of the leading drivers at the beginning of the season, should have won, but for a bit of trouble on the last lap. He got his Little Red Riding Hood behind Noll Derriksan and had to hold his slow inside position through the last corner.

Smirl, running second and Hickson, both moved outside and as they motored out of the south corner had a bit more speed than Roth.

Hickson punched it out on his purple 32 to take the lead and the checkered flag in the last lap.

The disappointed Roth had to settle for second, while Smirl picked up a well-earned third.

Bismeyer moved from the back of the pack in the nine-car, 25-lap B main for early-lates, as only four of the starters managed to finish.

Bismeyer needed only seven laps to grab the lead and he led Kitchin by a big margin across the finish line, followed by Coggan.

In a humorous feature event, involving the officials who run the races, Wilf (Senior Citizen) O'Brien proved he hadn't lost his touch from the old Knox Mountain days, as he took the Neil Roth car through nine laps to victory, followed by Harry Tordoff and Ivan Brewster.

Evening racing begins next Saturday, with the modified trophy dash going at 6 p.m. sharp.

San Diego Padres Making Effort To Pull Away From The Pack

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A two-out ninth inning homer gave the Portland Beavers a 4-3 win over the Seattle Angels in the opener of a Pacific Coast League baseball doubleheader Sunday night at Portland. But the Angels retaliated in the nightcap by holding the Beavers to four hits and shutting them out 2-0.

Meanwhile in other league games, San Diego Padres swept a twin bill from visiting Denver Bears 8-7 and 2-0, Tacoma Cubs edged Tulsa Oilers 4-3 at Tulsa, Oklahoma City 89ers wallpiped visiting Indianapolis Indians 10-3 and the Hawaiian Islanders split a doubleheader with Spokane Indians 2-0 and 9-8 at Honolulu.

Vancouver's game at Phoenix was postponed because of rain.

Willie Smith slammed Portland's homer in the ninth to break a 3-3 tie and give the Beavers the opener. But Jim Coates shut the Beavers out in the second game by striking out 11 and walking none. It was his first win in the league. He was recently sent down by the California Angels.

Right-hander Arnie Umbach was the big man for Oklahoma City as he held Indianapolis to eight hits for his fourth straight pitching victory. Meanwhile, the 89ers collected 16 hits off three Indianapolis hurlers.

They leaped to a 2-0 first-inning lead and never trailed. Indianapolis pitcher Chuck Clayton picked up his fourth loss of the season against four wins by giving up 11 hits in 4 2-3 innings.

A pair of two-run homers by Bob Barton and Clarence Jones sparked the Tacoma Cubs to victory at Tulsa. Tulsa moved ahead 2-0 in the fourth on a single by Jimmy Williams and 3-0 in the sixth on another single by Williams. But Barton broke the potential shutout the following inning with a long one over the left field fence. Jones smashes a 375-footer over left centre in the eighth.

Bill Cowan hit his 12th and 13th homers of the year and Jim Gentile collected his 13th as the San Diego Padres beat the Denver Bears in the first game at San Diego.

The Spokane Indians took an easy shutout in the opener at Honolulu as hurler John Purden boosted his season record to 8-5 by allowing eight hits, three walks and five strikeouts.

Don't Eat Your Breakfast And Grow Up Like A Man

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don Wilson won't mind passing up another breakfast... if it means more champagne before dinner.

Wilson, a 22-year-old Houston rookie, pitched an overpowered, 2-0 no-hitter—first in the National League since 1965—against the usually potent Atlanta Braves Sunday.

The 6-foot-3 right-hander walked three Braves, but struck out 15 in hurling the first no-hitter in the Astrodome. And he did it all on an empty stomach.

"I didn't change one thing today," he said between sips of the bubbly in the Astros' clubhouse. "Oh, yes, there was one thing. My wife didn't cook breakfast for me. She wasn't feeling good."

Would he skip breakfast before his next start?

"I'll try it one more time and see what happens."

In the NL, St. Louis Cardinals trimmed San Francisco Giants 4-1 to move past Cincinnati Reds into first place while Los Angeles Dodgers cuffed the Reds 5-3, Pittsburgh Pirates beat Philadelphia Phillies 5-3 and Chicago Cubs split a doubleheader with New York Mets, winning 4-3 after losing by the same score in 10 innings.

RAYMOND WINS FIRST
Claude Raymond of St. Jean, Que., traded by the Astros to Atlanta last week, found the change to his liking Saturday when he won his first game of the year as the Braves downed Houston 3-1. He had an 0-4 record with Houston before the trade. The Astros took the second game of the doubleheader 4-3.

In other Saturday action, San Francisco edged St. Louis 3-2, Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia 6-5, Chicago walloped New York 9-1 and Los Angeles romped 6-1 over Cincinnati.

Wilson, who got a saving assist from third baseman Bob Aspromonte in the sixth inning, walked Denis Menke leading off the eighth, then struck out pinch hitters Rico Carty, Charles Lau and Cleto Boyer.

In the ninth, Felipe Alou fouled out to Aspromonte, Tito Francona fanned—and slugging Hank Aaron ran the count to 3-2 before he went down swinging.

The Astros clipped Phil Niekro for their two runs in the fourth on Sonny Jackson's single, Jim Wynn's double, a single by Rusty Staub and an infield out.

IN U.S. OPEN

Jack Tops Record

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP)—

"I felt like an idiot, standing there with a one-iron in my hand," Jack Nicklaus said. "But I knew what I had to do to win this golf tournament."

The bulky, 27-year-old bolter was explaining the (f) moments of his record-shattering triumph in the United States Open golf tournament Sunday.

"I wasn't thinking about records," Nicklaus said over and over.

"Records come. They're made to be broken. I just wanted to win this tournament."

Nicklaus used the one-iron on the 542-yard, par-five 18th hole. He realized he was four strokes ahead and had to beat Arnold Palmer to win it, and that Dick Mayer took a seven on the same hole and lost the tournament in 1954.

"I knew the only way Arnie could catch me was for him to get a three and me a seven. So I was shooting for a six or better."

"So I took out a one-iron—I felt like an idiot doing it—and aimed it down the right side of the fairway."

The shot helped him break Ben Hogan's 19-year-old Open record of 276 by one stroke.

He broke Ben Hogan's 19-year-old Open scoring record of 276 by one stroke with a curling, 32-foot putt on the final hole.

It gave him a final round 65, five under par for the stately old Baltusrol course, and a 72 hole total of 275, adding the Open scoring record to his Masters mark of 271. It also gave him the $30,000 first prize.

But, although he won only $2,000 in a 12th-place tie at 286, Al Balding of Toronto may have been one of the most satisfied finishers in the event.

He got into the tournament by the back door as first alternate from the Detroit qualifying tournament when fellow pro Pete Brown was called home to California.

BALDING RAPS 65
Well back in the pack with a 75 the first day, Balding got progressively better as he went along, playing rounds of 72 to 71 before coming home second low man to Nicklaus over the final 18 holes with a 68. The 12th place he gains him automatic invitations to next year's Open and Masters tournaments, in which he was a regular competitor during the late 1950s and early 1960 but which he's missed in recent years.

... great stuff

Arriving late and unable to get in any practice rounds before seeing Baltusrol for the first time when he teed off for the first round, Balding found difficulty in gauging his shots.

But as the course became familiar, his game got stronger until he closed with five birdies—two three-footers but three in the 15-20 foot range.

Only one over par for the final 54 holes, he commented after the tournament:

"I'd like to take that 75 as a practice round. Then I'd be one over and able to go out there and overtake the leaders tomorrow."

Arnold Palmer, tied with Nicklaus and Billy Casper for second going into the final round, finished with a 69 for second place at 279 and $15,000. Playing in the same twosome with Nicklaus, he didn't get a birdie until the 17th, but added another at the 18th.

NO CHAMP... BUT
Casper, the defending champion, was bothered by driving problems and settled for fourth with a 72 for 282 and $7,500, one stroke back of Don January, who had a final round 70, good for a 281 total and $10,000.

Hogan, 55, seeking his fifth Open title, had a final 72 for 292.

For all intents and purposes, however, he had it won much earlier, when he reeled off a string of three straight birdies on the third through fifth holes. That gave him a lead he never relinquished.

He slipped to a one-over five on six when he pushed his second shot to the right into the gallery, but came back with birdies on seven and eight, dropping an 18-foot putt for one and pitching to within four feet of the flag for another.

A Hail Of Baseballs Fell On Ellis Street

Residents of Ellis Street always know when the Kamloops baseball team are in town. This is not because they laugh loud, bring cars without mufflers or throw bottles on the road.

It's because they have a habit of driving baseballs onto that street from Elks Stadium.

Saturday night, they bombed three shots over the right field fence while burying Kelowna Labatts 19-4 in an Okanagan Mainline Baseball League game.

First baseman Jack Fowles batted two homers and Ray Fujikawa one. In Kamloops' first trip to Kelowna May 20, they also hit three but Fowles had one and Fujikawa two.

All totalled, Kamloops, which leads the league with eight wins in nine games, racked three Labatts pitchers for 20 hits, including two doubles. Centre-fielder Steve Dane struck four hits while Dale Cassell, Al McKee, and Fowles had three each.

Fujikawa, Ed Begg and Eric Shishido had two each.

Labatts picked up a grand aggregate total of three hits off Leland starter and finisher Mike Kellough. The right-hander who throws with a deliberate overhand motion, and sometimes comes around sidearm, had an easy time with the hitters. He fanned 10 and walked five. All three hits were singles.

Actually, the game endured for three hours but the outcome was apparent after one-half inning. Leland's hammer starter Bill Niles for six runs on five hits in the first time around.

Niles, a 20-year-old right-hander, didn't have a thing on the ball. Leadoff batter Cassell singled. Randy Rota was safe on an error and McKee walked. Then Fowles hit a long fly ball to centre scoring one run. Fujikawa brought another with a base hit. Three more hits by Begg, Dane and Shishido capped the outburst.

Niles, in a post mortem, said, "I was throwing as hard as I could but it was going up there like a balloon."

Maybe so, but Leland tagged Les Schaefer and Dennis Morrow with 13 runs. Schaefer started the game in right field but took over on the mound in the second inning. They slapped him hard for four innings. He was charged with five runs.

Morrow worked the last four and also absorbed a fair beating. The American right-hander gave up eight runs on 10 hits—six runs came in the final inning.

Labatts, down 6-0 after one-half inning came back with two in the last half of the inning and had the bases loaded. Another hit would have made a big difference.

MORE YET
Next home game is Thursday when Labatts meet Penticton. Game time is 8 p.m. at Elks Stadium. Umpires were Bill Dean, plate and Jim Greenlay, bases. Leonard was ejected from the game in the ninth. Rantucci sat out the game while Monteleone was moved to short and Leonard took over at short. Appears Kamloops has too much power for the rest of the league. When they don't score a bundle, fine pitching keeps them on the winning side.

Teamsters Bounced

Vernon National Royalties fine forward Stan Godel scored his second goal of the game Sunday with less than three minutes remaining to give his club a 3-2 win over Kelowna Teamsters.

The win gives the Royalties a berth in the Okanagan Valley Soccer League final against Kamloops Balcos who whipped Penticton 5-0.

Both semi-final games were sudden death affairs. Now, Kamloops and Vernon will meet in a one-game final in Kamloops Sunday for the Royal Cup.

Vernon took a 2-0 lead early in the first half on goals by Godel and Ewan McInnes. The latter's goal came on a breakaway. The sharpshooter, who scored 11 goals this season, rifled a high shot into the net past goalie Ed Curran.

Then Kelowna got a break when a Vernon player put the ball in his own net. George Kamoschinsky was the Kelowna player closest to the ball and was given credit for the tally.

A penalty shot by Alex Roth tied the score before the end of the first half. It was a 20-foot shot.

Kelowna dominated play in both halves but missed numerous scoring opportunities.

Today Is The Day For Cassius Clay

HOUSTON (AP) — World heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay headed into an important round against Uncle Sam today; the fighter's trial for standing his ground when other men called by the draft took the one step forward into the army.

If the 25-year-old fighter is convicted for violating the Universal Military Training and Service Act, he could be punished by a fine of up to $10,000 and by as much as five years in prison.

U.S. Attorney Morton L. Susman said the government's case could be completed in two hours with four witnesses, all of them officials of the Selective Service System.

Kinsmen Tie In Babe Ruth

Young Reg Rantucci came in with the bases loaded in the first inning and went the next five as Kinsmen and CKOV played to a 8-8 tie at Recreation Park Friday.

The 13-year-old hurler fanned seven and walked four. He relieved when starter Peter Beyers walked five men in a row.

Mike Roche started for CKOV and was relieved in the third but came back in the fourth.

All totalled, he struck out five men and walked seven.

Rantucci also had three hits for Kinsmen and Beyers had three also. Gary Welder had two hits for CKOV and Don Stewart had a double.

Royal Canadians Suffer First Loss

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Royal Canadians, represented by Sunderland of England, suffered its first home defeat in United Soccer Association play here Sunday, bowing 4-1 to the Houston Stars represented by Bango of Rio De Janeiro.

The game drew 6,785 fans.

Centre-forward Paulo Borges, playing his last game for Bango before reporting for duty with the Brazilian national team, scored three goals.

In 80-degree heat, Sunderland was little match for the South Americans who dominated play through most of the game.

Left-winger Fernando gave Bango a 1-0 lead at 23 minutes after a smart passing play with Dutra Ocimar.

Borges got the first of his three goals 13 minutes later on a play that Vancouver protested was offside. A mid-field mixup between two Vancouver players just before half-time allowed Borges in for his second goal. Borges ran the score to 4-0.

He was called to the army April 23 and that day at the Houston Customs House, balked at the oath-taking. That afternoon, the World Boxing Association and the New York state athletic commission announced they would no longer recognize his claim to the world heavyweight boxing crown.

Tinactin Attacks Athlete's Foot

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Pennsylvania's veteran varsity crew, rowing smoothly and powerfully, grabbed the lead near the start Saturday and outrowed defending champion Wisconsin to capture the Inter-collegiate Rowing Association championships for two lengths.

The victory was the first IRA title for a Pennsylvania crew since 1900.

4-0 seconds after the second-half kickoff.

Vancouver's only goal came at 33 minutes of the second half by substitute halfback Colla Todd who linked with Alan Gaudin in a neat passing play down the right wing.

Lone Ranger Dan Gurney Rides To Grand Prix Victory

FRANCORCHAMPS, Belgium (AP) — Dan Gurney, the lone American among 18 starters, drove his American-made Eagle to a 63-second victory Sunday in the Grand Prix auto race of Belgium.

The victory was the first ever by an American driver in an American-made car in a Grand Prix race that counts toward the world championship.

Three months ago, Gurney, of Costa Mesa, Calif., became the first American in an American car to win a Formula One race in 46 years when he captured the International Race of Champions in England. That race, however, does not count toward the world crown.

Driving the car that he designed and built, Gurney set a lap record on the 20th lap of the 8.74-mile Francorchamps race in 46 years when he captured the International Race of Champions in England. That race, however, does not count toward the world crown.

Addition For Clubhouse

The Kelowna and District Fish and Game Club is currently considering extending its existing clubhouse at Sportsmen's Field. This project was discussed at a directors meeting Wednesday. The club's building committee will now prepare a proposal for such an extension, using materials and design similar to the existing building, so that the entire building will be sufficiently large to permit its use as an indoor 75-foot range for pistol, small bore, and archery use.

The executive also plans to obtain irrigation water for the club grounds, and is making the necessary application.

The directors were in agreement that the club support the Cedar Creek residents in their efforts to obtain federal assistance in constructing a breakwater in the Mission Bay area for the use of both residents and tourists in the area.

CLUB PARTICIPATES

The club will be participating in the Centennial Parade to be held in Kelowna on June 26, by presenting the Paul Creek Tribal Dancers, a group of 14 native Indians from the Kamloops area, who will perform ceremonial dances in full regalia on a float in the Parade, and in Kelowna City Park following the Parade.

The club will be sending Chris Turton and one other delegate to a one-day deer management course at Armstrong on Sunday. This course is being presented by the B.C. Interior Zone of Fish and Game Clubs, and lectures will be given by game department personnel.

Future executive meetings of the club will be open to the general membership, and will resume in the fall at the clubhouse at Sportsmen's Field, with speakers and refreshments, in addition to the usual business meeting.

Mosport Cancelled

MOSPORT, Ont. (CP) — Rain Saturday washed out the Indy 200 and the 200-mile race for Indianapolis-type championship cars was rescheduled for Saturday, July 1.

It was the first time in the seven-year history of this road track 45 miles northeast of Toronto that a feature race has had to be postponed because of weather.

While sports cars have toured the 2.5-mile asphalt circuit in heavy rain, officials of the United States Auto Club said the wet track was too dangerous for the powerful Indianapolis-type cars.

Officials had counted 39,500 fans through the gates by 2 p.m., the scheduled starting time for the two-hour race. But by that time, a light rain was falling and the rain was under tarpaulins in their cars at the starting grid.

DRIVERS HOLD MEETING
Shortly afterwards a driver's meeting was held and it was decided the race would go on if the rain let up by 5 p.m., but by 4:45 p.m. the race was called off and fans were told over loudspeakers to hold onto their tickets for the July 1 contest.

The race was for the Toronto Telegram Trophy and $85,000 in prizes and accessory money. It would have been the first time Indianapolis-type cars had competed in a North American road race.

In the morning, before the rain became heavy, two races were run off. Al Pearce of Toronto won a 12-lap race for sports cars in his Lotus 47. His time was 20 minutes 46.8 seconds, an average of 63 miles an hour.

Craig Fisher of Toronto won a 12-lap race for sedans covering the 30 miles in 21:09.5.

CENTENNIAL BEE
The University of Guelph, Ont., plans to develop a new strain of bee for the Centennial.

Motor Trend Magazine called Ambassador “one of the plushest, most comfortable town or highway cars we’ve ever driven”.

Now, here's the sweetest part of the story: Ambassador is priced with Ford, Chev and Plymouth!

Motor Trend is one of the most authoritative auto magazines in North America. Their February edition included a comprehensive road test of an Ambassador DPL. Here are some of their comments:

"The Ambassador DPL is one of the plushest, most comfortable town or highway cars we've ever driven."

newest and most efficient production engine available—and they clocked 0-60 mph in 9.9 seconds and 50 to 70 mph in 5.2 seconds.

"A number of built-ins make the Rebel and Ambassador safe and economical cars. The ceramic-coated exhaust system is still exclusive. Then there are the impact-absorbing steering column, the 5 year/50,000 mile warranty on major drive train items, unusually spacious and comfortable passenger compartments plus well planned overall design. It all adds up to cars that are easy to look at that are getting to be fun to drive, with the clincher being a well-earned reputation for quality construction."

With praise like that, it's no wonder that people think that Ambassador belongs up there in the Olds, Buick and Chrysler class. In terms of quality it does, but in terms of price, Ambassador is priced with Ford, Chev and Plymouth, model for model.

NOMINATION MADE

'A Negro Seat' May Result For U.S. Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nomination of Thurgood Marshall as the first Negro member of the United States Supreme Court has stirred speculation that a new American political tradition is being inaugurated.

For many years, the nine-member high court has included one Roman Catholic and one Jew.

Observers now say Marshall may become the first occupant of what could evolve as an informally recognized "Negro seat" on the court.

A big, distinguished-looking man, with graying hair and moustache, Marshall is already well acquainted with Supreme Court procedure.

As U.S. solicitor-general, the position he held before his appointment, Marshall argued 19 cases before the court. Earlier, as solicitor-general for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, he presented 32 cases.

President Johnson, who announced Marshall's appointment last week, said "only one or two living men have argued as many cases before the court — and perhaps less than half a dozen in all the history of the nation."

Auto Trade Agreement Helped Canada So Far

OTTAWA (CP) — The U.S.-Canada automotive agreement continues to drive trade higher in both directions, and to Canada's advantage, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported last week.

Analysing balance-of-payments figures for the first quarter of 1967, DBS credited sales of motor vehicles and automotive equipment with more than 40 per cent of the increases in both Canada's exports and her imports.

The bureau did not give total figures for this trade. But it estimated the traditional deficit for automotive products was narrowed by more than $35,000,000 from the first quarter of 1966.

All current transactions in goods and services with all countries abroad led to a first-quarter deficit of $340,000,000. This was down $65,000,000 or 16 per cent from the comparable $405,000,000 in the first quarter of 1966.

It is about standard for previous first-quarter deficits during the 1960s.

HEAVY DEMAND

The first three months of 1966 were unusual in many respects because of the boom conditions at the time. An unsustainable

Mid-East Oil Starts Flowing After Interruption For Warfare

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil began to flow again in the Middle East this week.

Saudi Arabia, largest oil source in the Arab world, was the first to return to full production.

Tankers again began steaming to various world ports with cargoes of oil. They could not go to the United States or Britain, however, because of an embargo imposed by most of the Arab nations.

But the embargo was not expected to have much effect on the United States, which produces most of its own oil.

The closing of the Suez Canal has dislocated ocean shipping and shipping rates are being forced upward. Some shippers are reported to have chartered ocean tankers at rates increased by 50 per cent.

PICTURE BRIGHTENS

In other news of the week, U.S. auto production was estimated at 174,396 units, up slightly from the 173,410 cars built in the previous week but down six per cent from the 186,291 in the week a year ago.

The auto industry said its early June sales ran four per cent ahead of last year, totalling 247,989 cars. During the June 1-10 period, Ford Motor Co. said its retail deliveries were 20.7 per cent over 1966 and Chrysler Corp. had a 1.5 per cent gain.

General Motors Corp., however, said its sales were down 2.7 per cent and American Motors Corp. reported a 5.3 per cent drop.

In a talk to the Automotive Analysts of New York, Chrysler President Virgil E. Boyd predicted 1967 would be the third best sales year in industry history, with total sales of about 8,300,000 units.

The commerce department reported during the week retail sales totalled $25,100,000,000 in April, or about four per cent above April 1966. Compared

Transformation Scene Plan Made By Registrar-General

OTTAWA (CP) — Plans for federal action in the field of consumer and corporate affairs were sketched briefly in the Commons Friday by Registrar-General Turner, slated to become consumer affairs minister when his department is reshaped.

One of the major steps may be to bring service industries, including professional sport, under the jurisdiction of the Combines Investigation Act for the first time.

Mr. Turner, at 38 the youngest member of the cabinet with a full-time portfolio, said the government believes in a free market economy but wants to make sure the consumer obtains maximum purchasing power for his dollar.

Eldon Woolliams (PC — Bow River) said the present government had placed more controls on business than any since Confederation. He also warned against too strict an enforcement of anti-combines laws. Some monopolies were necessary to meet foreign competition.

Ky Wants To Be In The Act When Future Under Debate

SAIGON (Reuters) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said today his South Vietnamese government should be represented in any talks involving Vietnam's future.

Speaking at a ceremony marking the second anniversary of his military government, Ky said no one but the official representatives of Vietnam could act for the Vietnamese people.

The premier made no specific reference to Washington reports of a likely Soviet-U.S. summit meeting later this week during a visit of Russian Premier Alexei Kosygin to the United Nations General Assembly.

He said, however, "this government stands for our presence in every conference to do with Vietnam so that the national interest can be directly protected."

Ky said Vietnamese participation is necessary in any conference on Vietnam so that such a conference could come to worthwhile decisions.

The premier told an audience, which included U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and other members of the diplomatic corps:

"No one but the official representatives of Vietnam can act for the people of Vietnam."

Of the war against the Viet Cong, Ky said: "We have to continue to fight until such time as the Communists realize they have no hope of victory and cannot bear to continue the fight."

Yemenis Attack As Egypt Quits

ADEN (Reuters)—The South Arabian Broadcasting Service reported here that 1,500 Egyptian troops in Yemen have left by air and sea for Egypt since Monday.

The radio, controlled by the South Arabian federal government, said more than 150 tanks and heavy artillery were also shipped back to Egypt.

The withdrawal of the troops, which first came to Yemen in September, 1962, to back President Abdullah al-Sallal's republicans against royalists supported by Saudi Arabia, apparently was necessitated by the Egyptian defeat in last week's war with Israel.

The radio said anti-Egyptian tribesmen were attacking the withdrawing Egyptian troops along the road from Sanaa to Hodeida, Yemen's Red Sea port, and in Radaa in southern Yemen.

WIND HAS DROPPED

TRIESTE, Italy (AP) — The street-corner lifelines strung up when the "bora" blows to keep the Triestini from being swept off the sidewalks may soon be a thing of the past. The howling wind from the north which hits highs of around 105 m.p.h. has lost velocity, frequency and duration. Scientists are as puzzled by its disappearance as by its purely local origins.

Third Budget By Sharp Was Not Too Exciting

By KEN SMITH
Canadian Press Business Editor

The third budget of Finance Minister Sharp contained little to excite the public generally but it has the makings of a tricky economic balancing act.

With the bloom off the boom but strong inflationary pressures still running through the economy, the government has to try to build a steady growth rate again—without adding too much to cost-price pressures.

As a result, some economic observers suggested, Mr. Sharp found himself a bit trapped because of economic conditions.

On one hand, if the government tackled the decline in economic activity, it faced the risk of stimulating still-further rises in prices and inflationary pressures.

On the other, if it went after the inflationary dangers it would cool still further an already-cooling economy.

SOUGHT STIMULATION
To try to meet this apparent paradox, Mr. Sharp opted for some mild stimulation in the area where the economic decline has been most noticeable—investment.

With the present state of the economy, any increase in investment carries long-term inflationary dangers within itself, but the government apparently hopes that by the time these percolate through the economy some other delayed anti-inflationary devices will be acting.

One of these is a belief that productivity will start improving soon. The lag of productivity behind costs has been a key factor in the growth of inflationary pressures during the last two years.

Recent heavy spending on plants and equipment, however, may soon start showing widespread results in more efficient output.

Also, some officials say, international competition will become a more potent factor in holding Canadian prices down about the start of the new year.

GOOD TO HELP
This would be the result of entry into Canada of foreign goods under the terms of the successful trade talks at Geneva.

Another factor, of course, which is expected to inject more bounce into the Canadian economy is the anticipated upturn in the United States economy later this year.

Elsewhere on the business
scene, the Southern Building Guide's statistical bulletin reported that the total dollar value of new construction contracts awarded in the first five months of this year stood at $1,826,046, 000 — down $94,975,000 from a year ago.

Despite the over-all decline residential construction showed a 13.7-per-cent gain to $554,744, 000 from $490,558,000 a year ago.
Last month, residential construction was virtually unchanged from 1966 but construction officials said the gain may reflect special conditions in view of expected changes in the mortgage-rate field.

Thus, it may not signify a strong upturn in the industry.

DECLINES ABSORBED
Major declines have been absorbed so far this year by business and industrial construction.

By category, it showed this breakdown for the first five months:

Business $226,047,000, down
$149,443,000; industrial $268,029, 000, down $57,811,000; institutional $386,968,000, down $42,
922,000; and engineering $390,
256,000, up $91,056,000.

The guide said a substantial drop in the total value of big jobs—those worth $1,000,000 or more—is a major factor in the total over-all decline in the first five months.

These contracts totalled $645-700,000 this year, compared with $839,700,000 last year. A major factor in the drop is the completion of Expo 67 and Centennial Year projects.
